The Glass House

New Canaan, CT

Gates Restaurant

Fascia's Chocolates

In the beautiful countryside of New Canaan sits an unusual structure, a starkly beautiful residence that has become known as The Glass House. Created by famed architect Philip Johnson, it's a brilliant legacy to a man who deeply embraced the Modernist movement and style. Johnson designed it for himself and lived there from when it was completed in 1949 until the day he died in 2005 at the age of 98. Clearly, it was a home as well as a work of art. Join us for a two-hour, guided tour of this unique home and exhibition.

Lunch will be at Gates Restaurant nearby. We'll have a delicious family-style appetizer and choose our entrée from a pre-set menu upon arrival. A tasty dessert will round out our meal.

We'll stop at Fascia's Chocolates in Waterbury for a sweet treat on the way home.
